

BRAVE NEW FOUNDATION PRESENTS

RETHINK Afghanistan

This full-length, ground-breaking 2009 documentary focuses on the key issues surrounding the war in Afghanistan as it enters its eighth year, and as President Obama weighs pentagon requests to send more troops. It features experts from Afghanistan, the U.S., and Russia discussing critical issues like military escalation, how escalation will affect Pakistan and the surrounding region, the cost of the war, civilian casualties, and the rights of Afghan women. As part of the filmmaking process, acclaimed Director Robert Greenwald traveled to Afghanistan to meet with and interview members of Afghanistan's parliament, bloggers, women's rights organizations, and groups committed to the peace movement. The ultimate goal of this documentary is to raise the level of public discourse and compel people to ask key questions about the war.
