

An Evening with Clyde Prestowitz

President of the Economic Strategy Institute, Washington, DC and Author of the best-selling book Rogue Nation: American Unilateralism and the Failure of Good Intentions

Tuesday, June 22

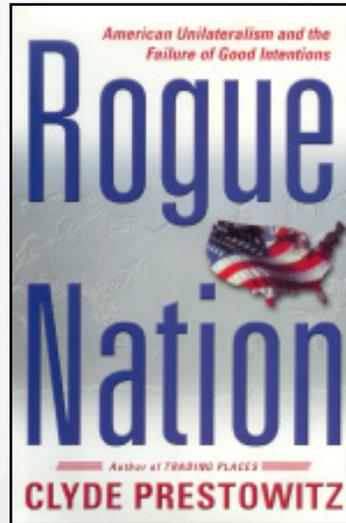

7:00 - 8:00 pm Clyde Prestowitz

8:00 - 8:30 discussion/questions

Maui Community College

Science 10A Lecture Hall

Free - Public Welcome

Clyde Prestowitz has much to say on the current world situation. His unique views are based on many years of experience leading U.S. trade and investment negotiations with Japan, China, Latin America and Europe.

From his recent travel and contacts with world leaders he is able to see the present policies of the U.S. from a global perspective. He comes from a deeply conservative background and offers practical solutions to many of the key problems. His is a fresh approach informed by broad experience and deep knowledge of the issues.

He is founder and President of the Economic Strategy Institute, a Washington think-tank influential in international trade policy and the effects of globalization.

He has an M.A. in East-West Policies and Economics from the East-West Center of the University of Hawaii; and an M.B.A. from the Wharton Graduate School of Business. He also studied at Keio University in Tokyo.